Topic: Innovation and Continuous Improvement Methodologies

Speaker: Jeff Sutter

Rolling out an effective problem solving methodology within a commercial enterprise involves much more than teaching the technical and statistical skills. Leadership support and an effective means of addressing cultural aspects are key to making the process stick. Jeff's presentation will focus on these surrounding elements for problem solving, and some of Delphi's recent experiences on this journey.

About the Speaker:

Jeff is a certified Master Black Belt currently working at Delphi Corporation's Saginaw Division in the Customer Satisfaction Statistical Engineering group. He has over 18 years experience in automotive engineering including product design, new product development, computer system administration, and CAD/CAM supervision. Jeff holds a Masters degree in Business Administration with a focus in Management Science from the University of Michigan, as well as a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Michigan Technological University. He is a member of ASQ and a certified Shainin Journeyman.
