Topic: Systems Engineering and Its Relation to Quality, Improvement, and Risk
Speaker: Mr. Jack Stein

About the Speaker ...

Jack Stein is the President of the Michigan Chapter for the International Council on Systems Engineering (INCOSE). He also co-chairs INCOSE's Risk Management Working Group (RMWG), which identifies risk management tools and methods and plans activities to expand knowledge, share information, and interface with related functions.

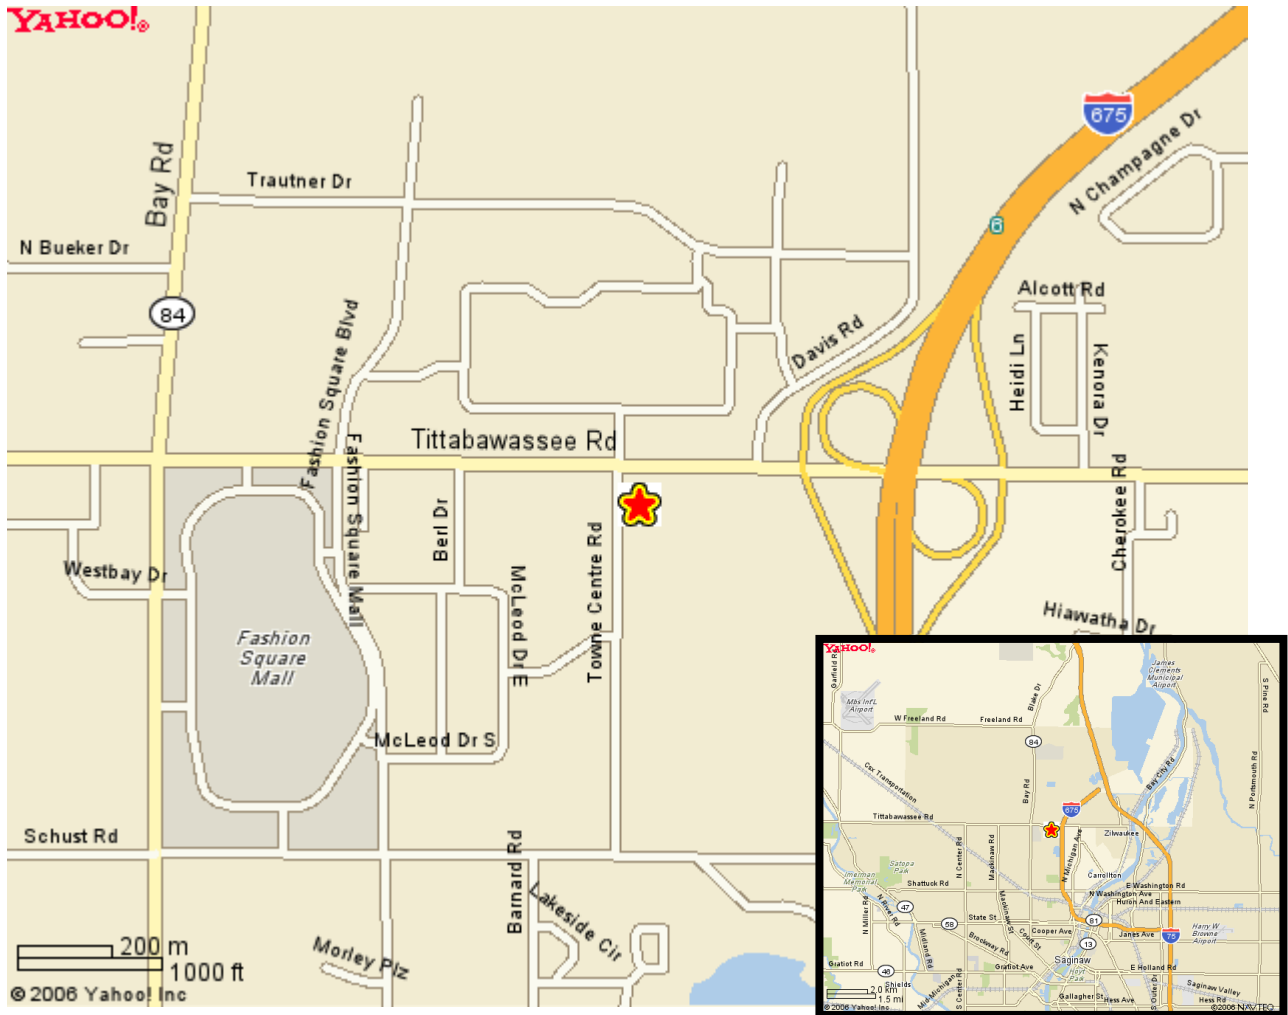

Currently, he is Senior Product Development Engineer for the Product Development Quality Assurance department at Terumo Cardiovascular Systems (TCVS) in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Positioned in the medical device industry, TCVS develops and manufactures precision-focused products for the specialized needs of the cardiac surgical team with an emphasis on cardiopulmonary bypass and intra-operative monitoring.

About the Pre-Meeting ...

A brief, coaching session provided on either ASQ Bodies of Knowledge (BOK) or activities.

September Quality Quote

From Philip Crosby ...

*“Quality is the result of a carefully constructed cultural environment.
It has to be the fabric of the organization, not part of the fabric.”*
