Topic: Environmental Sustainability — Project AWARE

Speaker: Mr. Gregory Stewart

In honor of Earth Day on April 22, this session focuses on how quality and improvement approaches, such as environmental management systems (EMS), contribute to environmental sustainability. This discussion also highlights how organizations such as Project AWARE (Aquatic World Awareness, Responsibility, and Education), can increase the understanding of aquatic ecosystem degradation and conservation measures to protect aquatic resources.

About the Speaker ...

Greg Stewart has over fifteen years total engineering experience in diverse engineering roles, including environmental, project, compliance, maintenance, process, production, reliability/quality, and improvement engineering within environmental consulting, hazardous waste management, and chemical/medical device manufacturing firms in Michigan. He is a graduate Professional Engineer and holds a BS in Chemistry, MSE-ISE, and MBA from The University of Michigan and BSE/MSE in Chemical Engineering from Wayne State University. He has also taught quality-related courses as an adjunct faculty member.

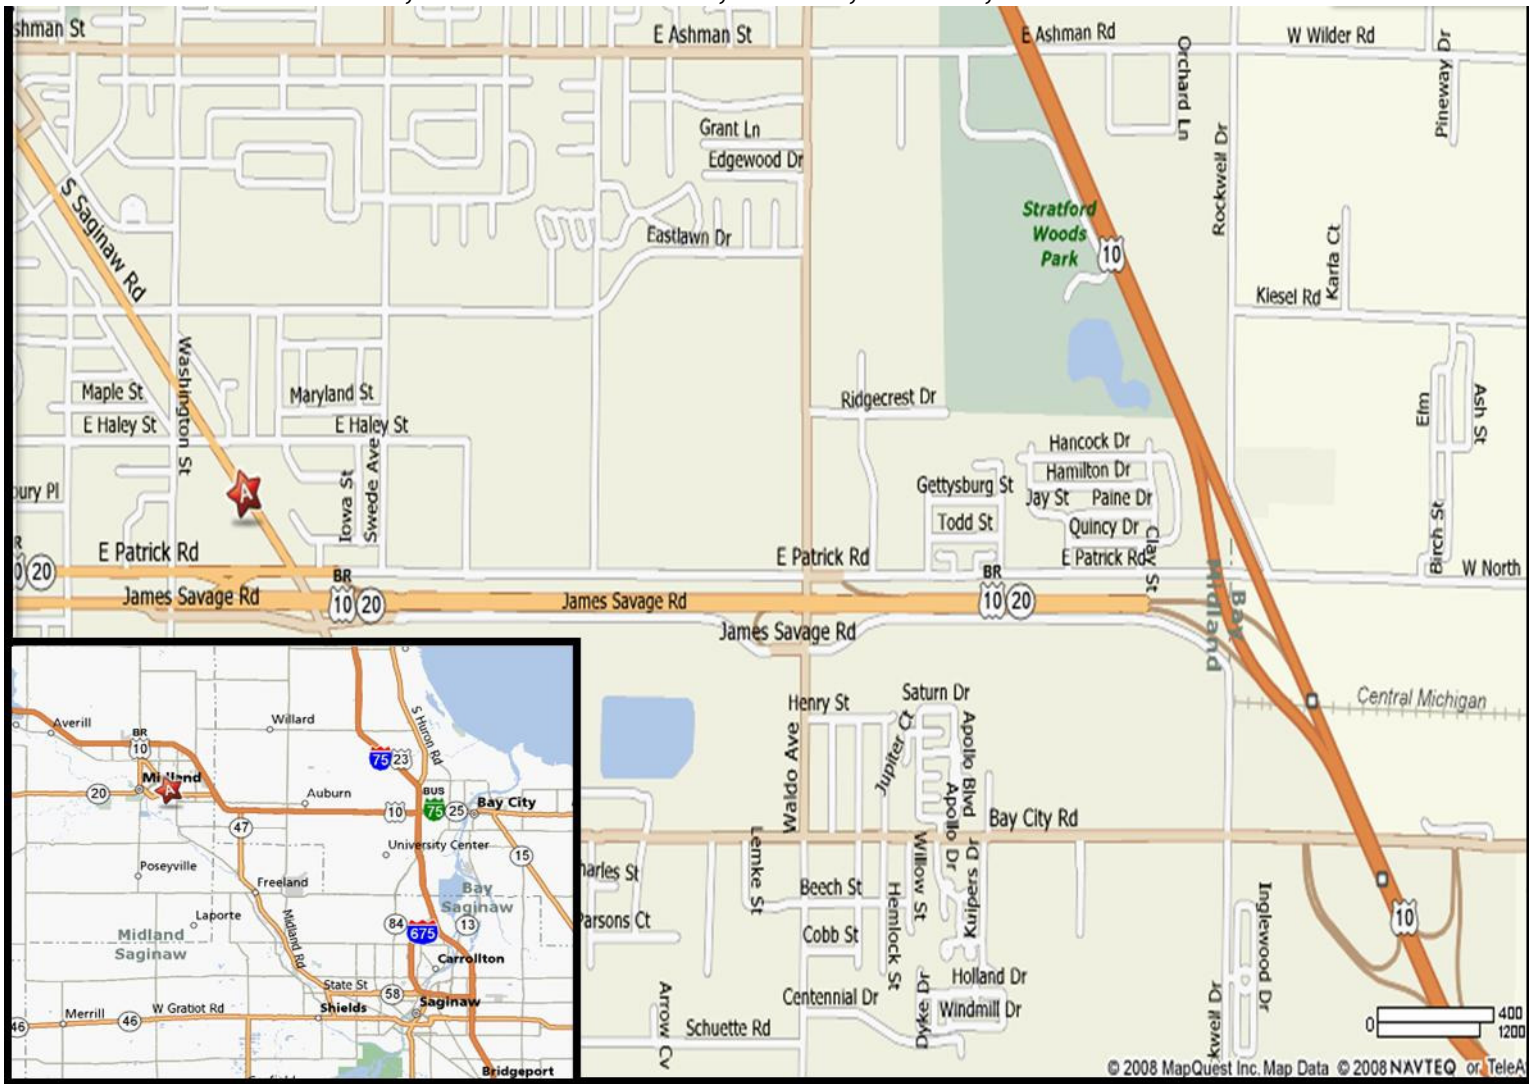

Greg joined ASQ in 2000 to pursue certification as a Reliability Engineer (CRE) and now holds twelve of fourteen ASQ certifications, including the CSSBB, CQE, CMQ/OE, and CQA. He is also a Senior Member of ASQ and active in the Saginaw Valley Section. He joined the Section Leadership Committee in 2005 as a Program Chair and currently serves as its Treasurer. In 2007, he accepted the position as Regional Councilor for ASQ's Audit Division.

Greg enjoys scuba diving in his spare time and has been diving since 1995. He became involved as a diving educator in 1999 and is a Professional Association of Diving Instructors (PADI) Master Scuba Diving Trainer (MSDT) and Instructor Development Course Staff (IDCS) Instructor.

About the Pre-Meeting ...

A brief coaching session on the ASQ Certified Quality Auditor (CQA) Body of Knowledge (BOK) is planned.
